

GENERALLY UNPLEDGED

Are Delegates to State and District Conventions

CAUCUSES ON SATURDAY

In Some Towns Republicans Voted to Have Their Representatives Work for Either Hughes or Taft.

By far the majority of Republican sentiment of Vermont, as expressed in the town caucuses of Saturday night, was for sending uncommitted delegates to the national convention in Chicago, although a few towns commissioned their local delegations to work for either a Hughes or a Taft delegation from Vermont. Many towns took no action as to instructions, indicating that their desire was for an uncommitted state vote in the big fight to come in Chicago.

The Republicans of Barre City to the number of 43 met in the city court room Saturday evening and elected delegates to the state and district conventions, which are to choose delegates to the national Republican convention in Chicago in June. The caucus was called to order by F. G. Howland, chairman of the city committee and A. A. Sargent was elected secretary. Two committees, consisting of N. J. Roberts, J. P. Marr and H. W. Scott on one and L. L. Robins, Alex. Gordon and E. J. Sowden on the other, were appointed by the chair to bring in a list of delegates and alternates to be voted on. They made the following selections, which were unanimously elected delegates and alternates:

State convention delegates: John W. Gordon, Donald W. Smith, Frank F. Cave, Wm. Wishart, Alex. Gordon, S. H. Jack, William Wishart, Alexander Gordon, O. K. Hollister, S. Hollister, Jack, James Mackay, W. H. Lager, F. J. Martin, E. H. Burke, C. H. White, D. H. Perry, W. H. Duthie, W. H. Messer, George Robins.

Delegates to district convention: F. G. Howland, H. K. Bush, R. S. Currier, W. L. Stow, W. D. Kidder, T. H. Cave, Jr., B. W. Hooker, J. W. Carver and B. H. Wells; alternates: L. H. Thurston, E. A. Hughes, W. E. Beck, A. A. Smith, N. J. Roberts, W. H. Messer, E. L. Scott, E. O. Kent, Charles Gauthier. There were no instructions.

The Barre Town Republican caucus was held at the school house hall in East Barre Saturday evening. A. C. Dickey was elected chairman and F. G. Howland, secretary. The delegates elected to the state convention are as follows: H. A. McAllister, James Lawson and Alfred Hyland, they being empowered to choose their alternates. The district convention delegates are: C. M. Welch, F. J. Davis and M. E. Avery, with power to choose their alternates. No instructions were issued to the delegates.

Springfield, April 20.—At the Republican caucus held at the town hall Saturday evening, eight delegates were elected to attend the state convention and eight delegates to the district convention. The delegates were unanimously instructed to use all honorable means to elect Taft delegates to the national convention.

Cabot, April 20.—L. W. Burbank was moderator of the Republican caucus Saturday and M. D. Wells secretary. Delegates to the district convention were elected as follows: T. H. Osgood, E. D. Waldo and L. W. Burbank, with P. A. Pike, M. D. Wells and O. P. Boyles as alternates; state delegates, L. W. Burbank, M. D. Wells and E. D. Waldo, with T. H. Osgood, O. P. Boyles and W. B. Lance as alternates.

Chelsea, April 20.—At the Republican caucus held Saturday afternoon an organization was effected by the election of John M. Constock, chairman, and W. H. Sprague, secretary, and the following delegates were elected to attend both the district convention at Montpelier and the state convention at Burlington: Stanley C. Wilson, W. H. Sprague and Edith N. Bacon. The delegates were empowered to choose their own alternates.

Windsor, April 20.—Four Hughes delegates were elected to the Republican state convention from this town Saturday afternoon. The delegates are Representative Maxwell Evans, W. S. Lovell, G. O. Gridley and G. F. Davis. The opposition, or Taft ticket, was headed by Sherman Evans, a brother of the representative, also F. W. Flint, H. P. McCleary and George T. Hazen upon it, the vote being 44 to 30.

White River Junction, April 20.—A caucus to select delegates to the second district convention and to the state convention was held Saturday afternoon. T. L. Hunt, Scott Tinkham, F. P. Campbell, R. J. Trainor, J. L. Bacon and Pease as state delegates. It was voted delegates and the same with the substitution of A. E. Watson for Horace C. Pease were chosen district to be the same of the caucus that Vermont should send an unpledged delegation to the Chicago convention.

Bemington, April 20.—The following delegates to the Republican district and state conventions were elected at a caucus held Saturday evening: District, L. P. Abbott, H. L. Sullivan, W. E. Putnam, Fred Ferguson, H. E. Saxford, John Walsh, Edmund Lafranchise, W. H. Berry, John Fay, W. J. Hicks, State, F. M. Crawford, E. L. Sibley, F. S. Pratt, H. H. Rockwood, Peter Langhin, H. T. Cushman, F. R. Newton, Miner Cleveland, Grant Harlow, Eric Smith. No attempt was made to instruct the delegates.

TWO DEAD, TWO DYING

DESPERATE ENCOUNTER

When Asked to Surrender Revolver, Prisoner at Warrensburg, Mo., Began a Fustle Which Was Returned.

Warrensburg, Mo., April 20.—Two men are dying and two bodies lie in the morgue as the result of the tragic homecoming of Byron Hall. Hall who is believed to be insane was arrested by a Missouri Pacific conductor, with whom he had trouble and was brought to the Estes hotel.

When City Marshal James Ryan asked him to give up his revolver Hall fired killing Ryan. Two other officers returned the fire and in a triangular duel Hall was killed and James Baskan and Robert Hollerack were fatally wounded. A negro porter sent a bullet through Hall's heart. Just after shooting the two officers Hall turned the pistol on himself.

Word has been received in Montpelier of the death in St. Johnsbury of Mrs. Laura Blodgett, widow of the late P. Blodgett. She was born in Brookfield in 1831. She leaves two daughters, three sons and one half sister.

During a period of mental depression incident to a serious illness, and while the persons caring for her were temporarily out of the room, Mrs. Edward Johnson of Montpelier, suffering from mental depression due to illness.

They hastened after her and secured her before she had gone far. Besides suffering from the shock of the fall, Mrs. Johnson appears to have suffered a serious injury, although she complains of soreness of the back. She was in a dazed condition when taken back to her bed.

LIEUT. C. I. MORSE HAD HIGHEST RANK

In First Competitive Examination of The Vermont Service School, Whose Purpose is Raising of Standard of Officers.

Northfield, April 20.—In the first competitive examination of the Vermont Service school, Co. F officers received the highest marks. First Lieutenant C. I. Morse had an average of 93; Second Lieutenant E. L. Benn 92; Capt. H. C. Moseley 91½. Capt. Moseley was tied with Capt. Thomas of Co. H, Montpelier, and Lieut. Grandy, Co. M, of Burlington. This is the first examination, one to be held every month for the first year. The course is for four years, the object of which is to put the state militia in the hands of competent officers, thereby creating a keener interest among the enlisted men.

MAKING IT DRY.

State's Attorney Hill of Caledonia County Working Overtime.

St. Johnsbury, April 20.—State's Attorney Hill, Sheriff Winch, the latter's deputies and the St. Johnsbury police have been working overtime the past week and enough liquor is now in custody to start a saloon if such a thing was permitted. The first raid was at St. Johnsbury when the police searched a wagon driven by Frank W. Robinson just as he had left the express office and found a case of 12 bottles of whiskey with the label removed. The liquor is stored at the police station and Mr. Robinson, who is now quite sick, will have his hearing later. Friday evening, on a search warrant issued by State's Attorney Hill, the police raided the bottling works of Thomas D. Pidgeon on Railroad street and took up to the county jail in a big express wagon nine half-barrels and six cases marked "Non-intoxicating Uno Beer." Mr. Pidgeon appeared with his lawyers and the latter claimed the stuff was not seizable and that Mr. Pidgeon had a perfect right to handle it. A large quantity will be sent to Burlington for analysis before the state takes any further action.

DIDN'T HINDER MARRIAGE

Louis Swan's Conviction on the Charge of Furnishing

Accompanied by Policeman Plunkett, Swan Went to Home of Bride, Where Knot Was Tied—Then He Went to Rutland.

A HASTY CEREMONY HELD

Northfield, April 20.—On Saturday Justice S. H. Kent performed very unusual duties as a justice of the peace. At two o'clock he sentenced Louis Swan to four months at the house of correction in Rutland, and at eight o'clock the same evening performed the marriage ceremony which made Swan the husband of Miss Rose Wiley.

On Friday evening Swan went to the house of Henry Bisette on North Main street, taking with him a quantity of whiskey. He and Bisette proceeded to dispose of the same and in a few hours were quite hilarious. Bisette is said to have married his wife and she made a complaint to the town jurors on Swan for furnishing. Swan was taken before Justice Kent and pleaded guilty to the charge, receiving a four months' sentence at Rutland.

At this time Swan held a marriage license, and his bride did not care to have the proceedings in the early part of the afternoon, mar the pleasure of the wedding and Officer Plunkett escorted Swan to the home of Fred Sears on Water street, where the couple were happily married by Justice Kent. Swan was taken to Rutland by Officer Plunkett this morning to work out his sentence.

On Saturday morning at 5:30 o'clock J. C. Donahue was arrested by Officer John E. Plunkett at the Central Vermont passenger station. Mr. Donahue was coming from the express office with a box containing 13 bottles of whiskey. Officer Plunkett had for a long time entertained suspicions that Donahue was handling liquor and seized the box and immediately placed him in the lockup. At 10 o'clock he was taken before Justice S. H. Kent, and pleaded guilty to the charge of having, conveying and distributing intoxicating liquor and was fined $100 and costs of $6.25 which he paid.
